

© Nathan Mandell

The Siebel Scholars program was established to recognize the most talented students at the world's leading graduate schools of business and computer science. Again this year, Kellogg School students have earned this distinction. With Senior Associate Dean Robert Korajczyk (left) are Siebel Scholars Chris Fosdick, Gaurav Wadhwa, Lisa Slouffman, Mya Wilkins and Luca Torre, all '06.