

Next up was Debbie Berechman, Executive Director of the MBA Program, who announced the recipients of the prestigious Siebel Scholars Award, given to talented second-year students in business and computer science at MIT Sloan and other top schools. The 2005 Siebel Scholars are Steven Fransblow, Dingli Chen, Peer Casillo, Caroline Stark, and Christy Prilutski.

Speaking for the Student Activities Board, Peer Casillo said the deadline for candidate statements for the upcoming SAB elections has been extended through the end of today (11:59 p.m.), Monday, November 7. To enter the election, e-mail a one-paragraph statement to pcasillo@sloan.mit.edu. For more information, visit <http://web.mit.edu/sab/www>.